PROLOGUE

The 1993 Factbook reports on and updates much of the data presented in the 1991 Factbook and the final Strategic Planning Committee Report (issued in June, 1990). The document identifies the University's absolute position, and in many cases the institution's comparative position three years following the collection, analysis, and presentation of the data that was a part of the strategic planning process. Again this year, there may be some slight inconsistency in the figures in a few of the charts. This is a result of the timing difference in collecting some of the data for the Factbook.

The report makes a very positive statement about the University's current position in relation to its list of comparative colleges and universities. Appendices A and B, "Comparative Schools," located at the back of the Factbook, present in detail the general characteristics of the University's comparative college groups, plus the law school comparative institutions. What is not captured in this report is the success the University has enjoyed in reaching many of the Strategic Planning Committee Report goals endorsed by the faculty and trustees in the spring of 1990. Information concerning the status of the 109 identified goals was published most recently in May, 1993, as the Report on the Strategic Planning Committee Goals, and will be published again in May, 1994.

The 1993 Factbook is divided into two primary sections. The first section, "A Profile of the University," pages v to xx, presents a snapshot of several University characteristics. The second section, divided into seven parts, expands on much of the data shared in the summary, but does not attempt to analyze the exhibits included in each part.

Should you have questions regarding the report, or the manner in which the data was gathered or is presented, please call me or Mr. Louie W. Love, Internal Auditor and Coordinator of Institutional Research, or Ms. Judy M. Wilkinson, Administrative Assistant to the President and Research Associate to the Planning and Priorities Committee.

Thank you for your interest in the University of Richmond and this report.

FACULTY

The core of any college or university is to be found in its faculty. Three measures of a faculty can be found in its salary structure, student-faculty ratio, and activity in the areas of publication and grant application.

Chart 4, "Average Faculty Salary by Rank," compares the University salary structure with the averages of comparative college Groups I and II.

FINANCE

Three of many financial factors that can be used to characterize a college or university's financial condition are presented in the following charts.

Chart 7, "College Costs 1987-88 through 1993-94," reports on the University's relative position to comparative college Groups I and II. Our position relative to price has improved with all but one institution over the last five years. Our percentage increase between 1987-88 and 1992-93 is fourth lowest, and all but one of these institutions have increased prices more than Richmond during that same period of time.

Chart 8, "Total Charges at Virginia Institutions (Members of VFIC)," identifies the University's position relative to the Commonwealth's other private institutions. We continue to rank 10th in total costs among Virginia private institutions. Though our increase last year was slightly above the average, it did not change our relative price position among the VFIC. Three selective public institutions with whom the University competes for students are included.

FACULTY SALARY COMPARISON
AAUP Annual Survey

The University of Richmond is classified as a IIA institution (Comprehensive Institution) in the AAUP's annual faculty salary survey. "These institutions are characterized by diverse post-baccalaureate programs (including first professional), but do not engage in significant doctoral-level education. ...these institutions must grant a minimum of thirty post-baccalaureate degrees and either grant degrees in three or more post-baccalaureate programs or, alternatively, have an interdisciplinary program at the post-baccalaureate level." (Academe, March-April, 1993, p.32.)

In 1992-93 480 of 513 IIA institutions participated in the survey, representing 103,362 or 27.4% of all faculty in the study. The largest number of faculty, 145,343, in the survey are at doctoral level (Level I) universities. There are over 55,000 faculty in the study at general baccalaureate (IIB) institutions.

The ratings (1*,1,2,3,4,) used in the survey represent "the percentile interval in which the institution's average salary in a given rank lies (1* = 95th percentile or above, 1 = 80th to 94.9 percentile, etc.) (Ibid.) (Emphasis added.)

* The number in parenthesis represents additional proposals which the records attribute only to "U of R." In 1984-85, for example, at least 8 of these are likely to have been the work of individual faculty. Following 1984-85 there seems to be a trend toward identifying more faculty by name.

 The numbers reported in earlier Factbooks inadvertently included administrators. The figures for 1989-90, 1990-91 & 1991-92 have been corrected to reflect only faculty.

GRADUATION SUMMARY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF RICHMOND STUDENT-ATHLETES

In 1986 the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) standardized definitions for graduation rates of recruited student-athletes. Each year until 1991 this NCAA Academic-Reporting Form was used to report this information. The graduation rate was computed on a period ending on August 31st following the fifth year after the recruited freshmen student-athletes enter an institution as full-time students. Two rates were computed from this information. One rate allowed the inclusion of student-athletes who transferred from the University in good academic standing with those who graduate. The other rate only considered the student-athletes who started and finished at the University in five years.

1980-87	479/68.4	71/10.1	386 / 81%	457 / 95%	4982 / 3751 / 75% ²

These figures reflect that 81% of all recruited student-athletes who enrolled at the University of Richmond during these seven years (1980-81 to 1986-87) graduated in five years from the University and that 95% of these same student-athletes either graduated or transferred in good academic standing. A comparable figure for graduation of these student-athletes with the regular student body reflects that the student-athletes have 81% who start and graduate from the University in five years vs. 75% for the regular student body during the same period.

In 1991 the NCAA changed to the Graduation-Rates Disclosure Form. This change aligned the NCAA reporting with legislation that was pending in Congress. The major differences between the NCAA's 1986 and 1991 forms are: (a) a shift from an emphasis in Recruited Student-Athletes to an emphasis on Freshman Student-Athletes Who Receive Athletics Related Aid, (b) a shift from totals for men's and women's sports to enrollment information on student-athletes who received athletics aid, by racial or ethnic group, by gender and by sport group and (c) a shift from graduation rates for recruited student-athletes who graduated in five years to the graduation rates for athletes who received athletics aid in their first year at the University who graduated in six, seven or eight years. It is not possible to make a meaningful comparison between the information in the NCAA Academic-Reporting Forms from 1986 through 1990 and the Graduation-Rates Disclosure Forms starting with 1991. The information in the OFFICIAL NCAA 1993 GRADUATION-RATES REPORT provides information on student-athletes entering in 1983, 1984, 1985, and 1986. Each NCAA Division I institution has an OFFICIAL NCAA 1993 GRADUATION-RATES REPORT prepared by NCAA, based on data provided by the institution, in compliance with NCAA legislation and the Federal Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act. These reports are distributed to all high schools in a 1993 NCAA DIVISION I GRADUATION-RATES REPORT book. NCAA stipulates, "that a member institution is not permitted to alter or highlight the information contained in the report prepared by the Association."

Wake Forest, Dartmouth and William and Mary are shown separately because their figures tend to skew the averages. Wake Forest includes its hospital as part of its IPEDS report and consequently there is no accurate way to remove all components of the hospital without skewing other ratios such as endowment income and endowment principal per student.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The University of Richmond is an independent, privately-endowed institution of higher education that provides a comprehensive academic program for men and women. It offers the intimacy of a small university and the diverse educational opportunities that derive from undergraduate degree programs in the liberal arts and sciences and in business, as well as graduate and professional programs in law, business, and selected areas of the arts and sciences. The University also provides a variety of credit and continuing education programs to the larger community. Related to the Baptist General Association of Virginia, the University affirms its commitment to serve individuals of all faiths and persuasions, without regard to race, sex, age, physical handicap, or national origin.

The educational objectives of the University are:

- to cultivate in students the interest, capacity, and skills necessary for independent intellectual inquiry and life-long learning;
- to convey to students a representative portion of that body of knowledge that has accumulated and endured through the history of cultures;
- to encourage and aid students in the development of basic beliefs, values, and attitudes;
- to assist students in selecting and preparing for careers and for study in graduate and professional schools;
- to foster in students personal habits that contribute to health and physical fitness.

In order to achieve these objectives, the University is committed to:

- an educational environment conducive to the development of the whole person--intellectually, socially, spiritually, physically, and morally;
